Doolally brings a fresh concept in Indian cuisine to Ireland. Expect brilliant flavours, quality produce, warm and welcoming service and top notch tipples.

Doolally is a love letter from India to you, on a plate. Doolally’s interiors are inspired by the country’s illustrious and rich history. At the heart of Doolally is a distinctive multi-sided bar with a stunning emerald green marble countertop.

Our full width kitchen, complete with tandoori ovens, is a hive and focal point of the restaurant, creating a theatrical backdrop.

THE GRAYSON

Welcome to The Grayson, home of fabulous dinners and parties on St. Stephen's Green since 1745.

From midweek lunches, to dinner overlooking St Stephen's Green, long leisurely weekend brunch, private cocktail classes, to exclusive takeovers, The Grayson is a stunning backdrop for any occasion with so many unique spaces within one building.

Bison Bar & BBQ has become a Dublin institution. Bison’s chefs have trained in Texas, bringing back the mouth-watering secrets of the perfect BBQ.

They have a Southern Pride smoker and the menu features 14-hour slow roasted meats and homemade sides. Plus with more than 150 whiskeys, over 50 tequilas and a wide range of cocktails, beers and spirits, you’ll want to pull up one of their saddle seats and stick around a while!

FOXHUNTER

The Foxhunter, Lucan’s much-loved pub, reopened its doors after eleven years. This Lucan institution, which started its life as a roadside tavern in the early 1900s, has had an impressive refurbishment, while also retaining it’s charm and many original features.

This cozy pub has plenty of snugs you can settle into and sip the night away. As well as this, The Elm Room is a gorgeous space dedicated to private events and available for exclusive hire.

Enter through the modern facade on Thomas St and step back in time. John's Bar is a mish mash of salvaged seating, cosy nooks, crannies, snugs, and a long central bar counter filled to the brim with beverages, retro sweets and haberdashery bits and bobs.

Named after John Creeth, who ran his haberdashery shop under lease at 61 Thomas St in the 1850s, the pub aims to preserve the history of the Liberties, and celebrate one of its oldest trades.

MARY'S

BAR AND HARDWARE

Mary's Bar and Hardware Shop is located just off Grafton Street. It feels like you're stepping out of the city centre and right into a pub in rural Ireland. Wooden floors, a full stock of hardware available to purchase, trad music on the occasional night, pints of plain and platters of toasties.

Even more unexpected is Wowburger, tucked away in the basement of this iconic pub. Pints and burgers, the perfect combination.
